

Global reflection sheet

The group worked cooperatively in all the subjects to make our project visually appealing. Our group teamwork was our strength as we all worked together to organize our time. Isaiah was very good at the physics, math, and ICT project, and I learned many things from him, he did his part thoroughly, and was very collaborative. Chelsea was also very cooperative and made the project very fun, Chelsea worked on the brochure fully and did a extraordinary job. Overall, we all did our part and helped each other. We had some miscommunications on who should get the laptop and when, but that helped us learn to understand each other. We all accepted each others opinions, which made us get better and look at things differently.
