

Realistic fiction writing:

A story about people and events that are made up but could actually happen in the real world.

First paragraph:

1. Where and when did the story happen?
2. What was the main character's name and age?
3. How did the character look like?
4. What was the character wearing?

Second paragraph:

1. What events lead to the problem?
2. What was the problem?
3. How did the character speak? (Make sure to include a quoted speech with a saying verb)
4. How did the character move?
5. How did the character feel about the other characters in the story?
 - Remember to include a simile or onomatopoeia.

Third paragraph:

1. How was the problem solved?
2. How did the character feel at the end of the story?

Important Notes

When writing a realistic fiction story. That story should include:

- Third person narration (he/him/his, she/her/hers, it and they/them/theirs)
- Past tense verbs.
- Character's feelings.
- Simile (a figure of speech comparing two things using like or as).

Examples:

1-As fast as a cheetah. (Fast like a cheetah)

2-As slow as a sloth. (Slow like a sloth)

3-As sweet as sugar. (sweet like sugar)

4-As cold as ice. (cold like ice)

- Onomatopoeia (sound effects of words to make the text sound more real).

Examples of onomatopoeia:

1. Animal noises (bow-wow, oink, cock-a-doodle-doo)
2. Collision or explosive sounds (boom, crash, clang)
3. Musical sounds (toot, clang, pluck)
4. Movement of water, air, or objects (puff, vroom, rustle)
5. Human sounds (sneeze, achoo, belch, cough)
