Page 35, Part B answers

Next week after school, Sultan and I are meeting to design our model spaceship for the competition.

Jack and I are also planning our design next week, and we 're hoping to finish the drawings on Friday.

We 're finishing our drawings at the beginning of March and then we 're making a test spaceship the following week.

So you 're testing the spaceship to see if it flies in March?

Yes, and if everything goes well, we 're building the real spaceship in June.

So you 're testing the spaceship to see if it flies in March?

Yes, and if everything goes well, we 're building the real spaceship in June.

I think that's very late. The competition is in July!

So when are you building your spaceship?

We 're starting to build it at the end of March and we 're adding the solar panels at the beginning of April.

We 're planning to finish the whole spaceship by the middle of May. And we 're testing it on June 1.

Wow!
